Course Progress Indicators

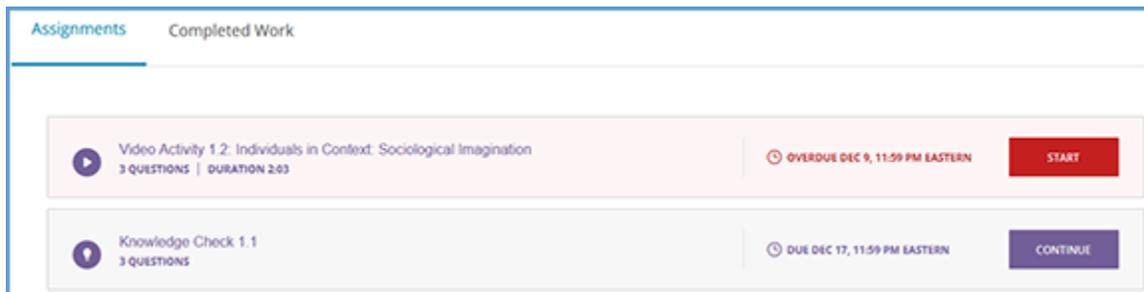

You can view your progress through the course assignments on your dashboard. The indicator on the left displays how many course assignments you have completed out of the total number of assignments. There are also indicators to the right for each assignment type.

Assignments tab

The Assignments tab makes it easy to keep track of any upcoming or overdue assignments. You can view the assignment's name and how many questions it contains. Video activities also list how long the video is. Assignments are listed in order of due date. If your instructor has not set a due date for the assignments, they are listed in order of appearance within the textbook.

You can click Start (or Continue if you have previously started the assignment) to go directly to that assignment. Overdue assignments will have red dates and Start buttons.

Completed Work tab

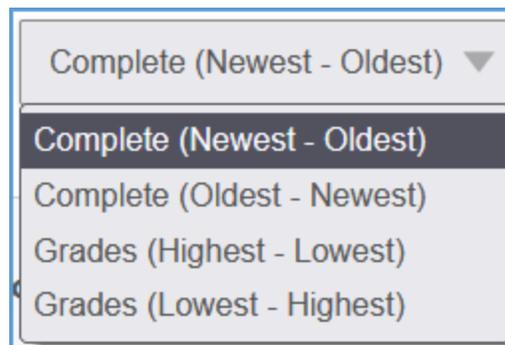

Any assignment you have fully completed at least one time are listed on the Completed Work tab. You can view the assignment's name, the date you completed it, and how many questions were included. Your current grade is listed with grades for assignments completed late in red. If the assignment allows multiple attempts, you can see the results of your most recent attempt for that assignment. If you want to retake an assignment, you can click Retake to go directly to that assignment.

TIP: Since your instructor can decide to record the best, most recent, or average of all attempts, the number of questions you got correct on the last attempt will not necessarily match what is in your instructor's gradebook.

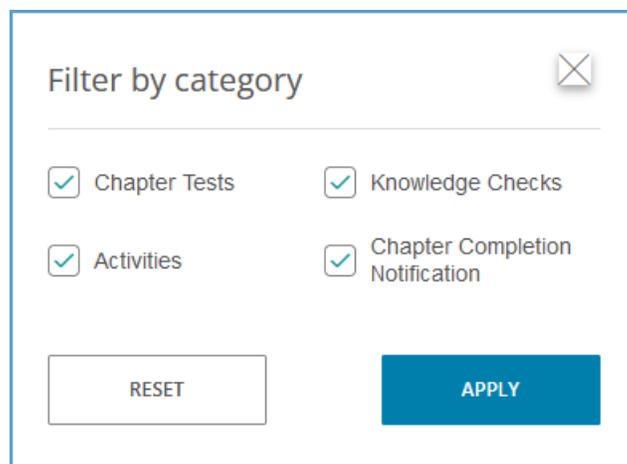

The Completed Work tab provides tools to help you better monitor your progress through any assignments you have completed. These tools are available at the top right of your completed assignments list.

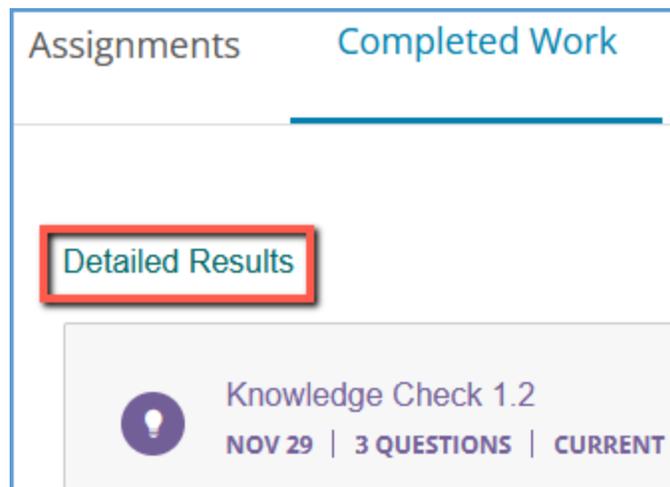

You can change the sort order by clicking Complete (Newest – Oldest) to expand the dropdown menu. Once you choose an option from the menu, your completed assignments will adjust to match your selection.

You can also Filter your completed assignments list by the type of assignment. Make your selections and Apply or Reset to restore the list to its default.

You can visit the Detailed Results section to review any completed attempt.

Click View next to any attempt to review your answers for that attempt. At the top left of the Detailed Results page, you can also Download a CSV file that includes completion dates and scores for all assignment attempts you have made.

Page Numbers

As you read through your textbook, you will run across page number indicators. These page numbers coincide with the pages of the printed textbook. In this example image, the page indicator is [Page 8]. If you were to open a print textbook to page 8, you would see the same content.

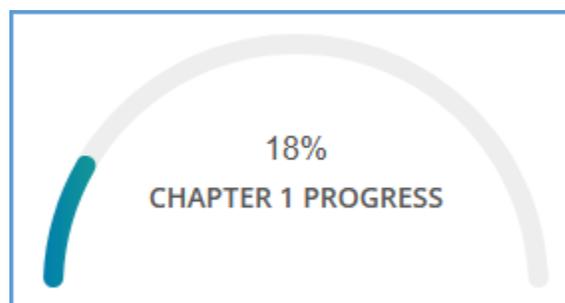

Vantage Activity Sidebar

If you are accessing SAGE Vantage on a laptop or desktop, the right side of your screen includes the Vantage Activity Sidebar. The tools found in the Activity Sidebar are described below.

Progress Indicator

The progress indicator at the top of the Activity Sidebar tracks how many assignments you've completed in the chapter. It allows you to see at a glance how much of the chapter's materials you've completed.

Activities in this Section

Each chapter in your textbook is divided into sections with each section having its own set of activities to complete. This area of the sidebar helps you keep tabs on due dates for each activity so you can stay on track with your course's schedule. Completed assignments are also marked so that you can easily tell what you've already finished and what still remains.

 TIP: Ready to complete an activity? Click on the activity's name in the sidebar to get started.

Each activity lists its name along with its due date and may contain additional helpful messaging so you can more easily check the status. Here are examples of the various statuses you will see for activities in the sidebar.

Due dates are purple if they are more than a couple days in the future.

Completing Activities in SAGE Vantage

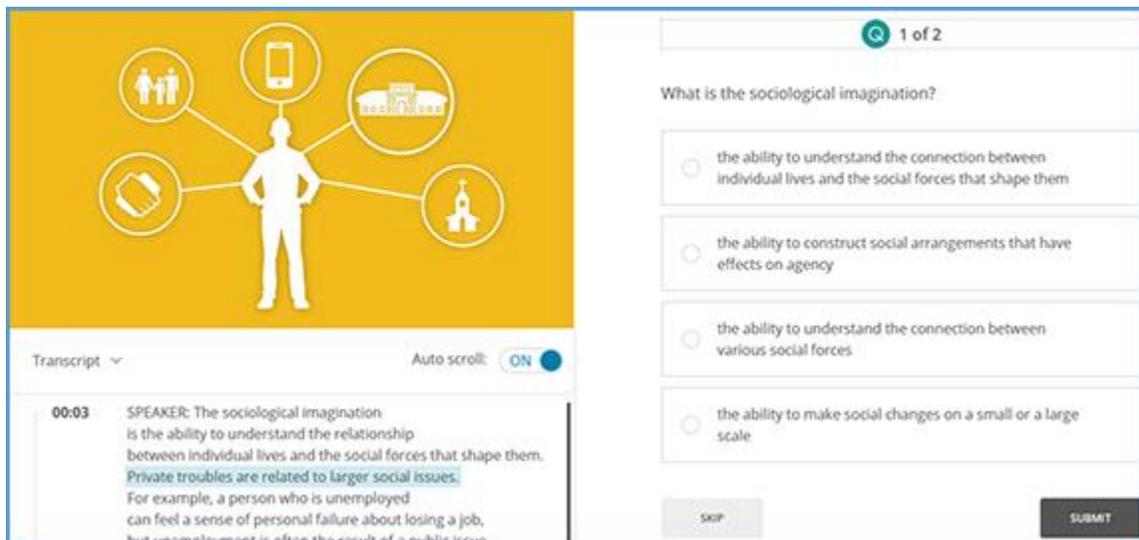

Video Activities

To complete a video activity, you must first watch the video. The questions appear at the end of the video.

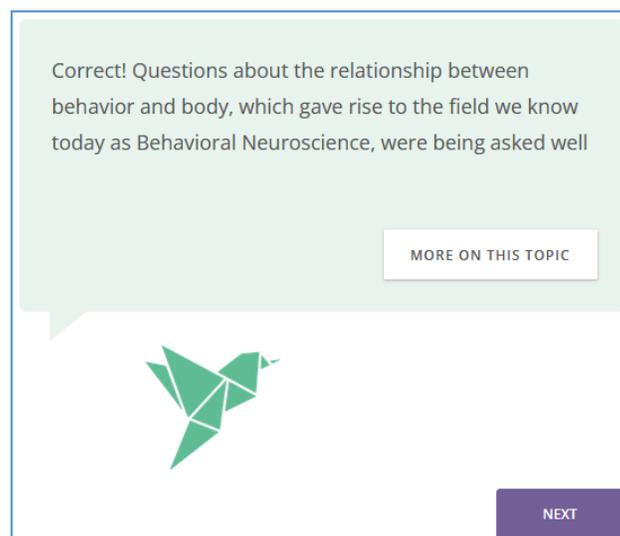

Depending on your device, the questions display either next to or below the video player. You can "skip" questions, but each question must be answered before the activity is considered complete.

-  TIP: While answering video activity questions, you can use the video controls to watch it again or read the transcript.

Once you submit the answer to a question, you receive instant feedback indicating if your answer was correct (green) or incorrect (red). Click More on This Topic to visit the section in your textbook that discusses the related material. Click Next to move to the next question. You can also go to the Previous question, Skip a question or Submit your answer to the question.

Data Activities

Data activities include interactive maps or other multimedia. The questions are located under the map.

 TIP: You will not be able to access data activities on a mobile device.

Completing end-of-section Knowledge Checks and Chapter Tests

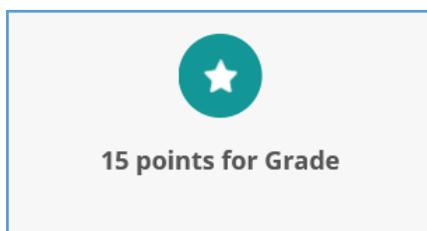

Before you begin an assignment, an introduction page provides helpful information about how your instructor has set up the assignment. This page lists:

- The due date
- The number of questions
- If it's assigned for a grade or completion
- The number of attempts allowed

Click Get Started to begin. If you have previously started the assignment, but exited before finishing, you will instead have the option to Continue.

Assignments for a grade function slightly differently than assignments for completion.

If the assignment is for a numeric grade, all questions are answered then submitted for grading. Each question is worth the same number of points. You must get everything correct in a question to earn the point.

If the assignment is graded for completion, questions are answered one at a time. Feedback is provided immediately for each question, and you have the option to go directly to the textbook materials that support the question. These types of assignments do not have a point value.

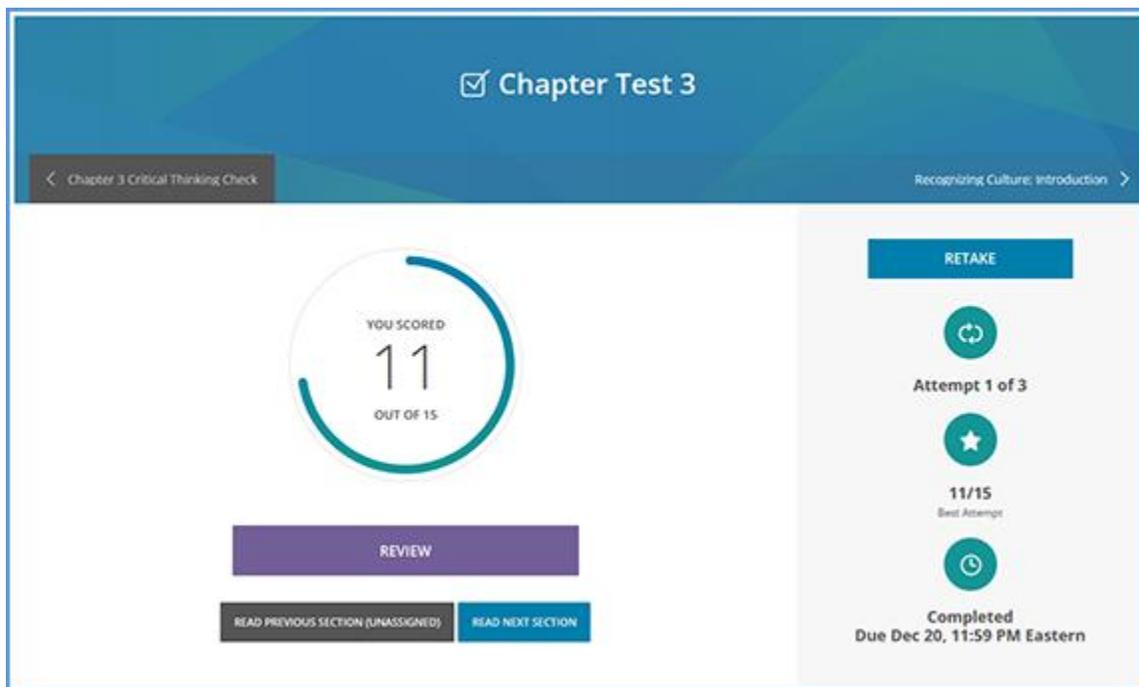

Once you complete the assignment, your results are displayed. This page allows you to:

- See your results for the attempt

- Track the number of attempts remaining
- What is currently reported in the gradebook (Completed or point value based on the assignment's settings)
- Completion date for the attempt

Depending on your instructor's settings for the assignment, you may be able to Review your answer or Retake the assignment if you have attempts remaining.

 TIP: Since you may be able to complete a graded assignment more than once, the score recorded in your instructor's gradebook could be different than the results on your current attempt. In the example image below, the Chapter Test allows three attempts with the instructor accepting the best of the three. The current score recorded in the gradebook is 11, but if higher scores are made on subsequent attempts on this assignment, the final gradebook score could be higher.

The screenshot displays the 'Chapter Test 3' interface. At the top, there is a blue header with a checkmark icon and the text 'Chapter Test 3'. Below the header, there are two navigation links: 'Chapter 3 Critical Thinking Check' on the left and 'Recognizing Culture: Introduction' on the right. The main content area features a large circular gauge showing 'YOU SCORED 11 OUT OF 15'. Below the gauge is a purple 'REVIEW' button. At the bottom of the main area are two buttons: 'READ PREVIOUS SECTION (UNASSIGNED)' and 'READ NEXT SECTION'. On the right side, there is a vertical sidebar with a blue 'RETAKE' button at the top, followed by a refresh icon, the text 'Attempt 1 of 3', a star icon, the text '11/15 Best Attempt', a clock icon, and the text 'Completed Due Dec 20, 11:59 PM Eastern'.

Overdue Assignments

If an assignment is overdue, you can complete the number of allowed attempts. Keep in mind that your instructor has control over whether the grade for an overdue assignment is recorded in the gradebook.
